

The tongue is a muscle. It forms food into a ball (called bolus) to chew and swallow.

The esophagus is a tube made of muscle. Food moves down the esophagus into the stomach.

